..... SECRET WARRIORS

by R. A. Shiomi
Directed by Lily Tung Crystal

history theatre

Secret Warriors

Secret Warriors shines a light on the Japanese American soldiers who served as translators and interrogators for the U.S. Army in WWII. Following Koji Kimura and Tamio Takahashi, the story reveals their sacrifices in the Pacific Theater, where they helped save countless lives and shorten the war by two years. Amidst war and family incarceration, their journeys and love stories unfold. Lunch included.

DAY TRIPPERS
DINNER THEATRE

37 POSTCARDS
By Michael McKeever

37 Postcards at DayTrippers

In this charming 1930s screwball comedy, Avery Sutton and his fiancée return from Europe after eight years to find his eccentric family in chaos. The house is crooked, the dog's wild, and his grandmother—thought to be dead—is very much alive! As they navigate the Suttons' quirks, Avery and his bride must decide whether to embrace the madness or walk away. In the end, they discover that while you can go home again, you never know what you'll find! Lunch included.

Whoa, Nellie!

The Outlaw King of the Wild Middle

Whoa, Nellie! tells the whirlwind story of a fake detective and former child performer who became a media sensation in late 1800s Minnesota. This fast-paced, funny, and moving musical follows the enigmatic "Nellie King," whose reckless disregard for the law leads to disastrous consequences and emotional reckoning. Her story highlights enduring issues of gender, addiction, mental health, and celebrity. Lunch Included.
